

Shipping with PRO-MAIL®

The PRO-MAIL® System has the ability to communicate to virtually any shipping station. Within PRO-MAIL®, database tables are provided which facilitate the communication of shipping information to and from the shipping station.

The shipping station would only need to be on you network and have the ability to access and write to the PRO-MAIL® database. This is a feature of most shipping stations today. With a shipping interface in place the flow of shipping information from PRO-MAIL® to the shipping station and back is automatic and easy to use.

The following shipping stations are currently being utilized by PRO-MAIL® licensees:
